General marking guidance

- All candidates must receive the same treatment. Examiners must mark the first candidate in exactly the same way as they mark the last.
- Mark schemes should be applied positively. Candidates must be rewarded for what they have shown they can do rather than penalised for omissions.
- Examiners should mark according to the mark scheme not according to their perception of where the grade boundaries may lie.
- There is no ceiling on achievement. All marks on the mark scheme should be used appropriately.
- All the marks on the mark scheme are designed to be awarded. Examiners should always award full marks if deserved, i.e. if the answer matches the mark scheme. Examiners should also be prepared to award zero marks if the candidate's response is not worthy of credit according to the mark scheme.
- Where some judgement is required, mark schemes will provide the principles by which marks will be awarded and exemplification may be limited.
- When examiners are in doubt regarding the application of the mark scheme to a candidate's response, the team leader must be consulted.
- Crossed-out work should be marked UNLESS the candidate has replaced it with an alternative response.

Section A: Supported multiple choice

N.B. If part (a) of the question is INCORRECT, then a maximum of 2 marks can be awarded for part (b).

|          |   |           |  |  |  |  |
| 5 (b)    | <ul> <li>Explain why this answer is correct:</li> <li>Definition of labour intensive e.g. labour-intensive production methods are those that require a relatively high level of labour compared to capital investment (1)</li> <li>Chris offers a personalised service/one-to-one service rather than producing lots of product at the same time (1)</li> <li>The main resource used by Chris is his own labour to produce the training sessions rather than any capital equipment (1)</li> </ul> | 1-3       |  |  |  |  |

|          | • B is wrong because this would involve large amounts of physical capital such as machines to produce many products at the same time whereas Chris only trains one person at a time (1)   |           |  |  |  |  |
|          | <ul> <li>C is wrong because lean production is concerned with the improvement of quality or efficiency of a product/service rather than training one person at a time (1)</li> </ul>  |           |  |  |  |  |

| 1            | 1-2   | Knowledge/understanding ofwhat is meant by labour costs/waysto reduce labour costsMaterial presented is oftenirrelevant and lacks organisation.Frequent punctuation and/orgrammar errors are likely to bepresent and the writing is generallyunclear.  | e.g. labour costs are the totalamount of money spent onemployees within thebusinesse.g. ways to reduce labourcosts include flexibleemployment such as part-time, flexible hours, flexibleworking such as multi-skilledworkforce, dismissal,redundancy, zero-hourscontracts  |                          |  |
| 2            | 3-4   | Application must be present,i.e. the answer must becontextualised and applied to TescoMaterial is presented with somerelevance but there are likely to bepassages which lack properorganisation. Punctuation and/orgrammar errors are likely to bepresent that affect clarity andcoherence.  | e.g. Tesco is facing a declinein profits/market sharee.g. Tesco has implied inEvidence D that employeeswill be made redundant inorder to reduce overall costse.g. Tesco employs 310,000in the UK alone   |                          |  |
| 3            | 5-8   | Analysis in context must bepresent, i.e. the candidate mustgivereasons/causes/costs/consequencesof the ways to reduce labour costsin TescoNB if analysis is not in contextlimit to Level 2.Material is presented in a generallyrelevant and logical way but thismay not be sustained throughout.Some punctuation and/or grammarerrors may be found which causesome passages to lack clarity orcoherence. | e.g. using flexibleemployment in the 3,000stores and flexible workingwill result in increasedproductivity and may result instaff being more motivatedtherefore not having to makeany employees redundante.g. redundancy can be aquick and effective method inreducing the 310,000numbers of employeese.g. Tesco could usevoluntary redundancy toencourage employees such ascheckout operators whowould have left Tesco to leavethe organisation |                          |  |
| 4            | 9-14  | Low Level 4: 9-10 marks.Evaluation must be presentand in context on one side, e.g.showing possible advantages anddisadvantages reducing labourcosts   | e.g. flexible workirreduce labour costshort term and mahigher costs due torestructuring of theorganisation due to   | s in they incure |  |
