Sunita and Ben are partners in a business, called Hugan's Travel that they started in 2000. They formed a partnership to hire out coaches for the local area. Sunita used to drive a single coach for school journeys, day trips, excursions and transferring workers to and from different locations. Ben worked part-time, completing all the paperwork for the business. As the business grew, both Sunita and Ben had to spend more of their time driving. It then became too much for them so they employed three additional drivers; one full-time and two part-time. Occasionally, some drivers were hired as casual employees.

Since 2005, Sunita and Ben have worked full-time in the office along with two other members of staff. They rent offices in an old building that has garage space for the coaches. One of their business objectives is to be as 'environmentally friendly' as possible.

In 2007, the business changed into a private limited company called Hugan's Travel Limited (HTL). The successful business now owns a fleet of 50 coaches that it hires out to customers and other businesses.

Sunita and Ben are now considering whether to continue expanding HTL by becoming a public limited company. If they do this, they will need to purchase at least 25 new coaches. This would require a large investment of finance that HTL does not have at the moment.
